Land between Abingdon and Botley the most likely, says report

TALKS OVER SITE FOR 3,000 HOMES

VALE of White Horse District Council met on Thursday for further talks on the potential building of 3,000 homes on Green Belt land between Abingdon and Botley.

The talks came as district councils across Oxfordshire are likely to have to increase the number of houses they accommodate as Oxford City Council struggles to meet its housing requirement.

However, Vale councillor, Sandy Lovatt, who represents Abingdon Dunmore ward, said he believed other Oxfordshire councils were better equipped to deal with overflow than his own.

Clr Lovatt said: "Cherwell and South Oxfordshire councils both have land where they can build more housing. The Vale is already struggling to show the 'exceptional circumstances' needed to justify its existing plans for over 1,000 houses in the Green Belt. It is also proposing to take nearly 20 sites out of officers said Oxford City could fall between 8,000 and 16,000 homes short of its target.

Because of the Government mandated 'duty to co-operate' on local authorities, Cherwell, South Oxfordshire, West Oxfordshire and the Vale could be forced to share the overspill from the city.

The Vale report also considered sites at Wantage and Farndon for the 3,000 homes, but said the most likely choice would be between Abingdon and Botley.

Director of the Campaign to Protect Rural England Oxfordshire, Helen Marshall, said: "The Vale is already the Green Belt, and it is now pretty clear that these would be first in line for consideration when it comes to the next round of development.

"Green Belt is virtually the last place we should be thinking of for accommodating any overspill, not the first. The whole point about the Green Belt is its permanence."

No formal decisions were made at the Vale's scrutiny committee meeting last Thursday, but comments from it are being referred to the Vale's cabinet.

The debate about where the city's overspill housing should go is likely to be a future topic of discussion for the Oxfordshire Growth Board which acts as a platform to aid co-operation between councils.

Clr Lovatt said: "The board exists for co-operation between councils but it can be difficult because each council is looking after their own

Bridge named in UK's top six for playing Pooh Sticks

 By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE'S Pooh Sticks fanatics are celebrating after a county bridge was named as one of the nation's top six for playing the children's game featured in author AA Milne's 'Winnie the Pooh' books.

Day's Lock, near Little Wittenham, was rated as the sixth best 'poohsticks-perfect' bridge by VisitEngland last week.

The announcement came as research also revealed the formula for the perfectly shaped pooh stick.

Rebecca Lowe, of VisitEngland, said: "Our recommendations of top Pooh Sticks bridges are just some of the great spots to enjoy the game across the country, and will hopefully encourage families to get out and engage in some friendly competition over the Bank Holiday weekend."

The World Pooh Sticks Championships was held at Day's Lock from its inception in 1984 until 2014. This year, however, after becoming increasingly popular, the contest was moved to a new venue at a bridge near Cogges Manor Farm Museum, Witney, which played host to its first event in June.

Lesley Adams, of Rotary Club of Oxford Spires which runs the event, said: "It's a lovely location in Little Wittenham but it got too popular so we started looking for a more suitable location."

"Hopefully, we'll see the new bridge at Langel Common on the list very soon."

The director of engineering and education at the Royal Academy of Engineering in London, Dr Rhys Morgan this week revealed his formula for the perfect pooh stick.

 Dr Morgan's formula is $PP = A \times p \times Cd$ – taking into account cross sectional area, density, buoyancy and the 'drag coefficient'.

In layman's terms, the perfect pooh stick is tubby and long, fairly heavy (but not so heavy it will sink to the bottom of the river), with quite a lot of bark to catch the flow of the river like paddles.

A book called 'The Poohsticks Handbook: A Poohstickopedia' was released last month.

Author Mark Evans said: "It's full of hints, tips and general poohstickey advice as well as the history of the game and, most importantly, the rules."

Concern aired over latest idea for West Way redevelopment

Society's video ploy to invite star Taylor

SIR Ian McKellen, Morgan Freeman and Malala Yousafzai are amongst those appearing to perform US mega star Taylor Swift's hit song 'Shake It Off' in a video released by Oxford Union debating society.

It is using the film in a bid to entice singer and American sweetheart Taylor (pictured) to join its long list of celebrity speakers.

The mash-up re-works sections of speeches made at the Oxford Union by famous faces set to Taylor's 2014 hit.

Oxford Union president, Charlie Vaughan, said: "To give some background on the video, we started out trying to think of a way to showcase to the incoming group of students to the University of Oxford some of the speakers we have hosted at the Oxford Union.

"When we realised a couple of days into editing that we were actually starting to put something pretty good together, we agreed that this would be quite an original way to invite Taylor herself."

Amongst the international figures and celebrities who have spoken at the world famous debating society are former British Prime Ministers Winston Churchill and Margaret Thatcher, pop star Michael Jackson and TV show host Jerry Springer.

After the video was released online last Wednesday, the Union tweeted Taylor, saying: "@taylorswift13 Fancy joining us in Oxford? #shakeitoff."

Mr Vaughan added: "We have no idea whether she will even see it, but the process of celebrating Taylor's music through our past speakers was fun nonetheless."

She is yet to respond to the video.

CAMPAIGNERS have aired concern at the latest vision for the redevelopment of Botley's West Way shopping centre.

The scheme has been revealed as a Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) which was called for by the Vale of White Horse District Council last month.

Design firm BDP produced the document on behalf of the council to be used to help decide any future plans for the area. It is currently open for public consultation until September 25.

The SPD states that a range of retail units, business and office space, residential housing, student accommodation, a care home, a nursery, a library and potentially a cinema could be built on the site as part of its development.

Chris Church, of West Way Community Concern said: "As the SPD stands, it does not provide adequate guidance to ensure that the development is of the highest quality.

"We've seen that some people are not keen on the idea of bringing a large number of student flats to that area and we want to see a clearer guidance on the limits of the building heights and sizes."

The SPD states that the height of the buildings could reach eight storeys (26.4 metres), whereas the tallest in West Way currently is Westway House at 17 metres.

Developers Mace are working on new plans to develop the shopping centre, having taken over from previous firm Deric.

Botley residents previously voted in a survey that their preference for the West Way shopping centre was for smaller, independent shops in the centre rather than bigger retail chain store units.

Chain stores and a cinema were in previous £100m plans to develop the West Way centre, which was turned down by the Vale of White Horse district council in December last year.

The SPD also states that Elm's Parade could be redeveloped as part of any development, but Mace have stated they intend to retain it as part of the redevelopment.

Huw Griffiths, development director at Mace, said: "Mace welcome the publication of the SPD and are in the process of reviewing the content.

"Mace can confirm that it intends to retain Elm's Parade as part of its forthcoming redevelopment."

Mace are set to submit a plan to the Vale later this year.

Cllr Mike Murray, cabinet member for planning policy at the Vale, said: "This document will ensure that people can have an influence over how this important part of the Vale will develop."

Displays go on UFFINGTON: The air displays set for the White Horse Show at White Horse Hill over the August Bank Holiday weekend will continue, say the event's organisers.

The flypast of the Avro Vulcan bomber will go ahead as planned on Sunday, August 30, following a decision by The Vulcan to the Sky Trust, which operates the vintage aircraft.

The aircraft is due to be grounded permanently at the end of the year.

There will also be a display by Mark Jeffries, of the Global Stars Aerobatic Team, and the RAF Falcons parachute display team will be dropping in.

Teen attacked

DIDCOT: A 17-year-old boy was taken to hospital after he was headbutted while walking across Cow Lane Bridge with a friend last Thursday.

They were approached by two men and one of them headbutted the victim, who sustained injuries to his face and was taken to Abingdon Community Hospital for treatment.

He has since been discharged and police are appealing for more information on 101.

Kitchen blaze

BICESTER: Firefighters were called to a house fire in Colne Close, Bicester, at 8.26am on Sunday after a female occupant smelt smoke and heard two smoke alarms. The Bicester and Oxford crews put out an oven fire.

Tribute seeks support

AN Oxfordshire flying club building a squadron of replica Second World War Spitfires is urging members of the public to back the idea.

Enstone Flying Club in Banbury Road, Enstone, has completed two of the fighters but wants a further ten to make up Ace Squadron as a tribute to the pilots who flew them in combat.

The leaders of the £4.3 million project are calling on county residents to contribute to the project and gain the chance to fly in one of the aircraft.

Flying club skipper, Paul Fowler, who lives near Enstone, said: "It's a tribute to the pilots and the people that worked on the aeroplane.

"The plan is to make the aircraft much more accessible."

The aircraft will be slightly smaller versions of the original aircraft – 80 or 90 per cent of their original size. Mr Fowler, 54, said while a full-scale size replica would cost about £2m to build, the club's smaller versions would be about £250,000 each.

He added: "It's probably the most iconic aeroplane anywhere in the world."

The club's two Spitfires – one an 80 per cent scale replica and the other 90 per cent – have been test flown and Mr Fowler hopes the larger plane will soon be ready for regular flights.

The aircraft are built from kits imported from America, with each one taking 6,000 hours to complete. They are powered by V6 engines built by General Motors rather than the original Rolls Royce Merlin engines.

Anyone contributing to the project will be able to sign a rivet, which will remain in an aircraft.

Shareholders will also be given the chance to fly in the plane as a passenger once they are cleared for take-off, weight limit dependent.

The RAF's deputy commander capability and air member for personnel and capability, air marshall Sir Baz North said: "The ambition to build and fly a squadron of Spitfires as a tribute to the men and women of the Royal Air Force is a unique and very exciting project. It is particularly poignant as 2015 is the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Britain."

Olivia tackles climb in memory of baby sister

AN Oxford schoolgirl on course to become one of the youngest people in the world to reach the summit of Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania fell slightly short of her goal.

Dragon School pupil Olivia Maiden, 13, started the five-day climb with her father Dan on August 7 in memory of her baby sister Florence.

But just six hours from the summit the party had to turn back after Olivia suffered altitude sickness.

Olivia said: "It was an experience I will never forget, though up the mountain you do not feel like that. Having to turn round was the hardest decision of the whole trip but I don't regret it as I would've been too exhausted to continue."

Olivia remains determined to reach the summit one day, and said she would like to lead a group to the top with the Duke

Hamish Reid, 35, of Jericho, the team's 'pack leader', set off with them from St John's Lock in Lechlade, Gloucestershire, at 9am on Saturday and travelled through Oxfordshire with the aim of reaching London's Tower Bridge today.

The team is hoping to raise £50,000 for the UK Stem Cell Foundation after Hamish's childhood friend, James Taylor, broke his neck diving under a wave and suffering permanent

The team is tackling the challenge in two groups of five, with one person doing the doggy paddle, with three people in a canoe pulling a giant inflatable dog called Stem, and another on a paddle board.

Hamish said the main difficulty the group had faced in pulling Stem along the river was the wind.

"The wind has been our enemy as it makes towing Stem that much harder," he said.

"However, we've really had a fun time. I was pretty confident we could achieve our goal and the team has been fantastic going through the day and night."

James said of the challenge: "The research funded by the foundation has the potential to cure currently incurable conditions, however in order to turn research into real treatments the charity needs support from challenges like this."

The team has to date raised just under £13,000.

Hospital work starts

BUILDING work has started on a new hospital for animals at Island Farm Donkey Sanctuary in Brightwell-cum-Sotwell.

The sanctuary cares for about 130 donkeys at the site and the development will provide it with a facility for vets to carry out medical procedures.

The construction will be taking place in two phases, with phase one beginning this week. It will see the construction of the three-room facility and is expected to last five to six weeks.

The second phase will see two holding pens furnished and equipment brought in for treatment and hygiene areas.

Stuart McLaren, the sanctuary administrator, said: "It will likely take five or six weeks to carry out phase one which we raised the funds for through stalls at various events.

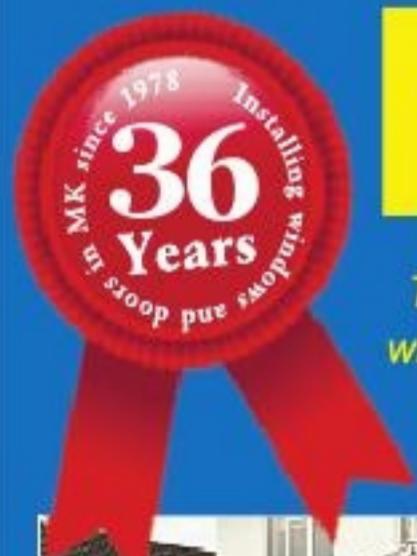

"We are fundraising for the second phase and hope to have enough to begin fitting it out once the buildings constructed."

Up to now, the medical procedures have been carried out in a stable that had to be cleaned out or the donkeys transferred to a vet's, risking further injury.

Mum of epileptic boy stages charity festival

AN OXFORD woman has organised a music festival to raise money for her epileptic son and an Oxfordshire charity.

Earlier this year, Jade Hudson's three-year-old son Leo was diagnosed with a severe form of epilepsy which means he can suffer up to 50 seizures a day.

Ms Hudson, 27, began raising money for her son and has decided to help Wantage epilepsy charity SUDEP Action.

She said: "I was doing so well fundraising on my own at home so I thought I should really do an event. So many people have helped me and I wanted to be able to help someone else."

Ms Hudson, who lives in Marston, began raising money online in June with hopes of buying Leo life-saving technology such as a Smart Watch, which

Dog rescued after being found with muzzle tied

AN abandoned dog whose muzzle was tied up so tightly that she bled was rescued from near Faringdon on August 15.

The young female animal, who has been renamed Clover (pictured) and is thought to be a greyhound cross, was found near Puddleduck Lane, Great Coxwell, by residents who called the RSPCA.

RSPCA inspector Nikki Denham said: "I was horrified at what I saw when I arrived. She was extremely subdued and I could see that the tape was tied around her muzzle.

"Her mouth was swollen, bruised and bloody. She couldn't drink, pant or eat which is extremely dangerous for a dog, particularly in hot weather."

Clover was taken to a vet and is now recovering.

Ms Denham said: "I dread to think what might have happened to her had she not been found. It is heart-breaking to see a dog in distress like this."

The tape is believed to have been around the dog's muzzle for 48 hours. She also had a inch-long wound on her leg that was so deep it required veterinary stapling.

Anyone with information is asked to call 03001238018.

– a severe form of epilepsy – shortly afterwards.

Ms Hudson has organised Oxfest at The Red Lion pub in Oxford Road, Old Marston, starting at 2pm on Saturday. It will include performances from five local bands. It will also feature an auction of items donated by local companies including signed Oxford United memorabilia, Romain Grosjean F1 gear and a Kimi Raikkonen shirt.

SUDEP Action is fundraising for research into a device that monitors breathing in epilepsy sufferers while they sleep.

The charity's acting chief executive, Karen Osland, said: "We are grateful to Jade for organising a fundraising event."

Recycling boost

OXON: Residents in Vale of White Horse and South Oxfordshire will be able to recycle small electrical items by putting them out with their grey bins.

The disused equipment will be taken to a specialist site in Newbury by the district councils for sorting and processing.

Clothes will also be collected when left in a tied carrier bag next to the bin on a normal collection day.

The scheme will start in South Oxfordshire on September 7 and the Vale on October 5.

Woman punched

DIDCOT: Police have released an e-fit after a man punched a woman in the face on the corner of Hagbourne Road in Didcot last Wednesday.

The 24-year-old victim was approached by the man who asked for a cigarette and then became aggressive and attempted to steal her handbag when she said she did not smoke.

The man then punched the victim, causing swelling and redness to her cheek and a black eye. The police would like to speak to the man in the e-fit and ask the public to call 101 if they have any information.

Former binman brings sci-fi tale to the screen as his debut film effort

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A WALLINGFORD filmmaker and former binman is set to premiere his debut film at the town's Corn Exchange next month.

Richard Oakes, 31, of Norries Drive, Wallingford, has produced the 20-minute short, a sci-fi spectacular called 'Exit Plan', four years after starting production company Dark Fable Media.

The filmmaker headed to his hometown of Cardigan, West Wales, where he and friend Mark Brugere shot the film with a couple of friends and extras over four days.

Richard told the Oxfordshire Guardian he had 'always wanted' to get into film but was worried about his lack of qualifications.

He said: 'I've always wanted to do something creative and I've always had a passion for cinema.

'I would get quite down during my days as binman but I decided to quit, buy the equipment and just take the plunge.'

Richard formed Wallingford-based Dark Fable Media and started shooting music videos for heavy metal bands such as Serj Tankian (of System of a Down) and Devin Townsend.

But last October, Richard decided to bring his idea for a sci-fi film to fruition.

The story of 'Exit Plan' is about a futuristic wasteland in which robots have taken over all the world's jobs, and the world has become divided between the rich and the poor.

The plot revolves around a man trying to escape the earth after a meteorite sends the moon on a crash course with the earth.

Richard said of the shoot: 'It was a great experience for me. At times it was a bit stressful but I'm very happy with the end product and I'm so glad I gave it a shot.'

Following the film's premiere next month, Richard is hopeful of it being shown at a number of film festivals around the world.

He has entered 'Exit Plan' in 25 different festivals, with the film already winning the audience choice award and best score moving on to his next project.

title at the online Monthly Film Festival awards for July.

The film has already been accepted for the I Filmmaker International Film Festival in Marbella, Spain, in December.

Once the film has been premiered, Richard hopes to show it to further UK audiences before moving on to his next project.

He added: 'I would love to make more. I've got so many ideas in my head that I'd love to put on the screen, but let's just see how this one works out first.'

The film is due to premiere at the Corn Exchange in Market Place on September 26.

Rhino birth takes keepers by surprise at Burford park

COTSWOLD Wildlife Park has lots to celebrate after the arrival of its second baby rhino this year.

Nancy, a white rhino, gave birth to a calf earlier than expected just five months after another white rhino Ruby gave birth to the Burford park's first male rhino.

The latest arrival will join sister Astrid who was born in 2013 to Nancy and Monty.

Park managing director, Reggie Heyworth, said: 'You wait 40 years, then it seems like three come along at once. This is such a happy event for the park, and I have to pinch myself when I see six rhinos on the lawn.'

Keepers knew Nancy was pregnant but the birth of the male calf at about 7pm last Tuesday took them by surprise. He is yet to be named.

Rhino births are extremely rare in captivity, with only 14 white rhinos being born in European zoos in the last 12 months. The park has now had two of the three recorded UK births.

The park was voted the UK's fourth best zoo by users of travel website TripAdvisor.

It was also rated the park the 12th best zoo in Europe.

Pupils delighted as they gain record GCSE results

JUST a week after Oxfordshire County Council announced an improvement in A-levels across the county, 15- and 16-year-old pupils went through all the tears and triumphs of opening their GCSE results.

About 6,200 young people at secondary schools celebrated record-breaking results last Thursday and started preparing for college and sixth form to study for their A-levels or International Baccalaureate.

Henry Box School in Church Green, Witney, celebrated its third successive year of GCSE success with 65 per cent of its pupils achieving five or more A* to C grades, equal to last year's record results.

Headteacher of Henry Box, Wendy Hemmingsley, said: "I'm delighted with these results which are a testament to the excellent teaching and pastoral support of our staff."

Independent school Abingdon School in Park Road, Abingdon, celebrated success with 60 per cent of its passes hitting the A* level.

Magnus Gregory, 16, of Pyrton, near Watlington, was celebrating more than just his ten A* GCSEs after having recently becoming the marathon kayak junior European champion in Slovenia.

Magnus said: "I wasn't expecting this. I didn't do that well in my mocks. I'm probably most pleased with English language because I got a C in my mocks and I got an A* in the exam."

Girls at Headington School performed outstandingly with a school record of 56.7 per cent of all grades scoring A*'s, and 19 of the 116 girls sitting the exams scored ten or more A*'s.

Headmistress Caroline Jordan said: "We are absolutely delighted by this year's GCSE results. The girls have worked so hard and it has really paid off."

Didcot Girls' School pupils were also celebrating great results, with 72 per cent of them achieving five or more A*-C grades.

Binuka Gurung, 16, of Didcot, who gained six A*'s, said: "It wasn't as bad as I thought it was going to be but when I got here I was like 'Just get it out the way' and it all turned out OK!"

Jemma Crowther, 16, of Abingdon, was 'extremely nervous' about collecting her results, but found she had achieved three A*'s and four A's.

She said: "I didn't have breakfast I was so nervous about it. I tried to handle it like a normal day in order to get through it but now I'm over the moon with my results and I've got to ring my parents to tell them all about it."

Headteacher Rachael Warwick said: "We've had another fantastic year and our girls put in so much work here. We are so proud of them all."

Pupils at The Oxford Academy in Littlemore achieved the school's best ever results, with 58 per cent gaining five A*-C grades.

County council's cabinet member for children, education and families, Melinda Tilley, said: "I would like to congratulate our young people on their GCSE results this year."

Experts voice concern over 1,200-home Blenheim plan

A NATIONAL committee that acts as an official advisor to World Heritage Site chiefs has said it could not support a planned 1,200-home development near Blenheim Palace, Woodstock.

A letter sent from Peter Marsden, the chair of the international council on monuments and sites UK (ICOMOS-UK), to Cherwell District Council said

Local residents opposing the Woodstock development have launched an online petition.

By Alexander Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

the development would overpower Woodstock and harm the World Heritage Site (WHS).

ICOMOS-UK acts as the official adviser to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO), which selects World Heritage Sites such as Blenheim Palace.

The letter from Mr Marsden to Cherwell's development control team leader for planning, said: "ICOMOS-UK cannot support the revised application. It remains our view that the town of Woodstock forms a key element in the setting of the WHS.

"We continue to believe that the development would physically overpower the existing settlement."

The outline planning application for the 1,200 homes on land south of Perdiswell Farm on Shipton Road was submitted to both Cherwell and West Oxfordshire district councils last year.

John Bleakely, a Woodstock resident, said: "It's an over-development of the town that is not sustainable. A 1,200-house estate at Blenheim does not constitute a World Heritage Site."

Town councillor, Sharon Parnes, said of the letter: "It assesses a lot of the issues that were perceived by members of the public already. It's very encouraging to see an expert reach the same conclusions."

The Oxfordshire Guardian reported last week that Cherwell council officers believed there was a planning objection to the application.

An internal memo from the council's head of strategic planning said the objection was based on the development not according with the Local Plans of Cherwell or West Oxfordshire.

A spokesman for developers Pye Homes and the Blenheim Estate, Daniel Hayman, said: "We are reviewing the comments that have been made as part of the consultation from ICOMOS and will look at some of the specific points they have raised.

"The development has the potential to secure the future of the World Heritage Site well into the future and it is imperative that it does so in a sympathetic and non-detrimental way."

Firefighters quell a spate of arsons

OXFORD was hit by six arson incidents in the space of just an hour-and-a-half last Wednesday.

Four of the arsons occurred in the Cowley Road area, with the other two incidents happening in Headington.

No one was injured in any of the incidents.

A wheelie bin was set alight in Cowley Road at about 2.50am before a motorcycle parked in Charles Street was set alight, causing damage to a nearby car at about 3.30am.

Firefighters attended the scene and extinguished the fire.

At about the same time, a skip in Hurst Street was set alight. The fire was put out by the fire service.

Thames Valley Police officers also came across a bin in Leopold Street that was smouldering at 3.25am.

Investigating officer, Det Con Charlotte Dunford, said: "The police are particularly interested to speak to a man who was in the area of Hurst Street at around 3.30am.

"This man is not a suspect and informed the fire brigade about the incident. I would like this man to come forward and speak to police. He is a white man, around 25, with short brown hair and stubble."

A MAN was jailed for seven years after being convicted of causing grievous bodily harm to his former girlfriend in a two-hour attack.

Dewayne Mason, 38, of Humfrey

Dewayne Mason, 38

Road, Oxford, was found guilty unanimously by a jury on August 14 following a four-day trial at Oxford Crown Court.

He was sentenced on the same day to seven years' imprisonment.

Mason arrived at his victim's house in Warren Crescent, Headington, in the early hours of February 15 this year and attacked her after she allowed him into the property.

The 34-year-old victim was subject to punching, kneeing and headbutting during the assault and sustained a broken rib, punctured lung, multiple bruising and cuts to her lip and eyebrow.

Mason claimed to have been acting in self-defence, saying that his victim had attacked him with a hammer.

Senior investigating officer, Det Insp Larry Johnson, of Oxfordshire's Protecting Vulnerable People Unit, said: "This is an excellent outcome, particularly for the victim who sustained a horrific two-hour attack at the hands of Mason.

"The victim has shown immense bravery throughout our investigation and to allow the photos of her injuries to be published which highlight the brutality of the attack she suffered."

Mason had originally entered a plea of not guilty, causing the victim to endure a trial and give evidence in court.

Det Insp Johnson said this was 'disappointing' as the victim had to endure 'some very intrusive questioning' by Mason's defence team.

The police officer added that the sentence was a 'reflection of the seriousness and gravity of the offence' that was committed.

The horrific injuries sustained by Dewayne Mason's victim

He said: "I am very pleased that the jury was able to reach a unanimous decision and was not swayed by Mason's defence.

"The victim will now be able to move on with her life in the comfort that Mason will be in prison for some years to come."

Det Insp Johnson also thanked the officers and staff who worked on the investigation, as well as the Crown Prosecution Service for securing the conviction.

The police released the pictures of the victim last Friday after she gave her consent.

District council sees increase in complaints

COMPLAINTS against South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) have more than doubled over the last year.

Figures published by the Local Government Ombudsman showed that complaints against SODC had increased from seven between 2013 and 2014 to 23 between 2014 and 2015.

Oxfordshire County Council received the most complaints in Oxfordshire, with 53.

It is the role of the Local Government Ombudsman to independently investigate complaints against councils.

The other local authorities in Oxfordshire received a similar amount of complaints in both years.

The biggest increase in complaints against SODC were about housing - nine were received by the ombudsman this year, up from one in the previous year.

SODC spokesman, Natalie Ellis, said: "Although the number of complaints appears to have increased, only three resulted in the Local Government Ombudsman making a formal enquiry.

"The other complaints were either not pursued by the complainant, referred back to us because a complaint had not been made through our complaints procedure, or the LGO didn't need us to make a formal response."

However, complaints against Oxfordshire's councils are significantly lower than other authorities.

Between April 2014 and March 2015, Birmingham City Council received the most complaints with 578.

The ombudsman received 16 complaints about Vale of White Horse District Council this year - up slightly from 13.

A total of 11 complaints were made against West Oxfordshire District Council - down from 13 the year before.

Oxford City Council complaints increased from 30 to 32.

"Every day I do this job, the passion never fades." Opened in 2011, the Bridelicious team have recently been nominated for the national Guides for Brides customer service award. This accolade is well earned thanks to the team's one-to-one, free, private consultations for brides-to-be. Heather, who has been married for 26 years and is mum to three boys ("so I'll never be mother of the bride!") says the shop is a female-friendly affair ("what happens in the shop stays in the shop!"). Arrange a visit to discuss which of the Oxfordshire exclusive designer gowns – ranging from £500 to £2,000 and including Eternity Brides, Art Couture, Rembo Styling, House of Nicholas and Impression – is perfect for you.

Prepare for your marriage, not just the wedding day

They say that love is blind, but it makes much more sense to go into marriage with your eyes open. When did you last talk about you as a couple? Are you taking the 'happily ever after' part for granted and getting caught up in the excitement of the wedding day?

Marriage Care, a national charity with over 65 years of experience helping couples, knows that enduring relationships need nurturing and cultivating.

A Marriage Preparation workshop looks at building and maintaining happy relationships, avoiding the pitfalls and supporting you to build the best possible future together. During the day you are encouraged to consider things that will nurture a lifelong relationship and understand how relationships grow when important issues are dealt with in a constructive and loving way.

Some couples prefer a more individual approach called FOCCUS. A trained facilitator works with you as a couple to explore how your relationship works, its strengths and potential issues, in a supportive and confidential environment.

Most people plan for the big things in life and getting married is no different. Over 2,000 couples have done this in Oxford over the past 20 years, with overwhelmingly positive feedback, why not check it out for yourself?

Call us on 0800 389 3801 (01159 934 255 mobile rate), email oxford.centre@marriagecare.org or visit our website at www.marriagecare.org.uk to book a course.

Delight at surprise arrival of second Rhino calf in one year

ON Tuesday 18th August, at around 7pm, Cotswold Wildlife Park had a rather unexpected arrival. White Rhino Nancy gave birth to her second calf. Keepers knew Nancy was pregnant, but the actual birth came as a bit of a surprise and a little earlier than expected.

Births in captivity are considered extremely rare, with only fourteen White Rhinos being born in European zoos in the last twelve months. Cotswold Wildlife Park was responsible for two out of the three recorded UK births. The new addition is the sixth member to join the 'crash' (the collective noun for a group of Rhinos).

Curator Jamie Craig commented: "After almost forty years of desperately trying to breed from our old group of Rhinos with no success, we are delighted to now have had three calves since 2013. The newest member of the crash was somewhat more of a surprise than we'd like, but at present, all seems to be going well."

It's been a remarkable few years for the Rhino family. In 2013, first-time parents Monty and Nancy delighted staff and visitors when they produced the first calf in the Park's forty-three year history - a female named Astrid. Two years later, she has been joined by a baby brother, who is yet to be named. To add to the celebrations, earlier this year, another of the Park's breeding females, Ruby, gave birth to a male calf, named Ian.

White Rhinos (Ceratotherium simum ssp. simum) have always been an important species at the Wildlife Park, which was founded by Mr John Heyworth in 1970. His son Reggie Heyworth, Managing Director of Cotswold Wildlife Park, commented: "You wait forty years, then it seems like three come along at once! This is such a happy event for the Park, and I have to pinch myself when I see six rhinos on the lawn."

Females only reproduce every two-and-a-half to five years, so the window of opportunity for successful reproduction is limited.

After a gestation period of sixteen to eighteen months, a single calf is born. Nancy is proving, once again, to be an excellent and very protective mother. A newborn calf will stand up within one hour of birth and immediately attempt to suckle, although may be a little unsteady on his feet for the first few days. He will remain under the watchful eye of his mother, suckling from her for approximately one year. Their bond is an intensely strong one and the calf will remain with his mother for at least two years, benefiting from her protection. Females guard their offspring aggressively and are intimidating adversaries if challenged.

Unbelievably, these iconic animals were once the rarest subspecies of any Rhino and were on the verge of extinction in the early 1900s, when it was believed only twenty to fifty animals remained in their native African homeland. Thanks to excellent and sustained protection, they are now the most common of the five Rhino subspecies, although poaching in the last five years has once again escalated to serious levels, driven by demand for rhino horn from the traditional medicine market of China and the Far East.

Visitors can see the new calf daily from 10am to 6pm (last entry at 4.30pm) in the large Rhino paddock and solar powered Rhino House.

WIN tickets to the London Homebuilding & Renovating Show

COINCIDING with the latest report that the South East of the UK has seen the largest rise in self-builders in 2015 with the numbers increasing YoY by 16 per cent [1], the up-and-coming London Homebuilding & Renovating Show, sponsored by Anglian Home Improvements, is set to attract thousands more visitors at its new spacious and contemporary venue, ExCel, London from 25-27 September. The event this year will celebrate the 25th anniversary of Homebuilding & Renovating magazine, the show's media partner and Britain's best-selling self-build publication, by taking its content off the pages and bringing it to life at the event, supported by new experts, exhibitors, seminars and masterclasses.

To commemorate a quarter of a century of publishing for self-builders at the impressive ExCel exhibition centre, the event will showcase how the property market, architectural and design trends, which have shaped the social aspects of the UK families, have evolved over this time. In addition,

Win an evening at The Pointer

Your chance to win dinner for 4 plus a bottle of champagne

THE Pointer is a real village pub at the centre of the local community where you can eat fantastic, locally sourced food. Wherever possible, produce comes from The Pointer's own farm and estate overseen by Stockman Jamie Brewer and Estates Manager Paul Gough. Produce direct from the farm includes beef from the very best free range English Long-horn cattle which is aged for a minimum of 30 days; and pork from the farm's rare breed Middle White pigs.

Since joining in December 2014, new head chef Mini Patel and his team are delighted to have been awarded two AA Rosettes in The Pointer restaurant. Mini's menus change daily and are founded on carefully sourced produce and simple British classics with creative twists, all cooked and presented beautifully.

Closing date:
Friday, September 11, 2015

Adjacent to The Pointer pub and restaurant is the butcher, run by husband and wife team Jon and Anna Wilkins. Pointer owner, David Howden, and butcher Jon Wilkins have shared a love of food and passion for farming for many years and it finally led them to open the butcher two years ago. Similar to the pub, the butcher is a focal point for Brill's local community, providing up to 160 meals a day for the neighbouring school during term time, attracting families on a weekly basis to purchase their free-range meat, eggs and preserves and providing produce for The Pointer restaurant and pub.

The Pointer restaurant, pub and butchers sit in a prime and beautiful location in Brill, Buckinghamshire, with routes towards Oxford, Bicester and central London. The local train stations are Haddenham and Thame Parkway, only ten minutes by car or Bicester Town, which is 15 minutes away.

Win dinner for four with a bottle of champagne at The Pointer by answering this simple questions:

Q: Which rare breed of pig is reared on the farm?

Bellowhead at the Showground

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THIS year's Towersey Festival at Thame's Showground from Friday August 28 to Monday August 31 will see a folk band of 11 musicians boasting over 30 instruments between them.

Stuck in a traffic jam in 2004, friends John Spires and Jon Boden vowed the longer they were stuck, the more friends they would invite to join them on tour. And Bellowhead was born.

"I never stop being amazed at where we've come from and where we are now," John told the Guardian.

"When I first started playing traditional folk music back in the late '90s, I knew it was something I loved and wanted to do, but back then it was quite unfashionable and right on the fringe of the wider music scene."

He added: "I had no idea that folk would end up shoulder to shoulder with mainstream music."

Performing on Saturday August 29, John and Jon are joined by Benji Kirkpatrick, Rachael McShane, Paul Sartin, Pete Flood, Brendan Kelly, Justin Thurgur, Andy Mellon, Ed Neuhauser and Sam Sweeney.

They have gone on to release five UK chart hitting studio albums, the latest of which, 'Revival', peaked at number 12 in the standings, their highest ever position in the charts.

John added: "We wanted to make an album which somehow acknowledged the recent resurgence of folk music into the mainstream, almost in the way it did way back in the folk revival of the late '60s and early '70s.

"The fact that we released it on the famous Island Label who put out so much great stuff in that era seemed very fitting.

"Also, we always have a lively show!

"We'll be playing a mixture of tracks from the new album and some old favourites too, so prepare to dance in the isles."

Their third album 'Hedonism', released in 2010, has gone on to sell over 60,000 copies.

The figures make it the highest selling independently released folk album of all time.

Other artists performing at the festival are Joan Armatrading, last year's joint runner up on The Voice Sally Barker, Oxfordshire born musician Nikki Loy and violinist Phil Beer.

Visit www.towerseyfestival.com for more information.

Oxford trio aim to deliver acoustic glamour at Joe's

THREE Oxford brothers will take to the stage and showcase their acoustic talent at Joe's Bar & Grill in North Oxford this Sunday.

The Lewis Brothers, consist of Tom on backing vocals, keyboard and saxophone, Rhys on the guitar and as lead vocalist along with their half-brother Harvey on cajon and percussion.

The trio are set to perform hits from the likes of Bob Marley, Whitney Houston and Sting, all the way through to contemporary pop songs by the likes of Rihanna, Bastille and Oasis as they aim to cater their show to all audiences.

However, an original track maybe on the cards this Sunday.

"When we perform as The Lewis Brothers we tend to play just covers," Tom told the Guardian.

"However, Rhys (the lead singer) writes his own music and so we're always ready to play a few originals on request.

"And Rhys' latest song 'Don't Wanna

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Believe It" is now available on Soundcloud.

In addition to performing at various venues across the country, the brothers (excluding Rhys) have also got day jobs whilst pursuing their music endeavours.

Tom spends his time working with two volunteer organisations, which are LRTT (Limited Resource Teacher Training) and Hull-based charity Volunteer Uganda and LRTT (Limited Resource Teacher Training).

Whilst, his brother, Harvey, is a qualified music technician who over the last two years has set up his own business called Reulo, which helps small businesses and start-ups with their media and branding.

Rhys is a full-time musician who works as a live performer as part of the Lewis Brothers, as well as performing in London with many other live acts that he's a part of.

Rhys is also embarking on his own solo career whilst composing music for theatre and adverts.

The three brothers are hoping their gig this Sunday will be as good as the last time they visited the Banbury Road venue, which was earlier this summer.

"It's always great to start a gig with some chilled covers whilst people are eating and then ramp it up a bit as the night goes on," Tom said.

"By the end of our last gig at Joe's we had a dozen diners up dancing.

"We're really excited to be back, it should be a good night on Sunday as it's a bank holiday weekend.

He then added: "We enjoy every gig - it's what we all love to do.

"The special gigs are the ones where everyone is immersed in the music, dancing, singing and clearly enjoying themselves.

"When we can see that people are enjoying it and there's a great energy in the room, we always play better."

The gig starts at 7.30pm at the Banbury Road venue and is free when buying a meal.

McLaren returns to Pebble Beach with one-off 570S

FOUR years on from its global launch, McLaren Special Operations (MSO) will return to the USA's famous Pebble Beach Concours d'Elegance later this month with a selection of distinctive and beautiful commissions.

The bespoke division of McLaren will showcase some of the individualisation options it will make available on the forthcoming new 570S Coupé, the first model to join the McLaren Sports Series.

Two examples have been created.

The first 570S Coupé by MSO features the uniquely formulated Mauve Blue paint finish coupled with a bespoke interior finished in Carbon Black leather with co-ordinating detailing, carried through from the exterior colour.

A second 570S Coupé, finished in Ventura Orange and fitted with a selection of styling details from the MSO Defined range of options, will take up position on the popular Concept Lawn at the event.

Production of the coupé-only model is strictly limited to 500 examples worldwide all of which have now been assigned to customers.

By James Richings

jamesr@taylormedia.co.uk

With a clear focus on lightweight, optimised aerodynamics, increased power, track-focused dynamics and driver engagement, the model re-establishes the 'Longtail' heritage.

This means that the car's top speed is 330km/h (205mph), the 675LT accelerates to 100km/h (62mph) from standstill in 2.9 seconds, and hits 200km/h (124mph) in just 7.9 seconds.

Alongside the model in the Super Series will be the even more exclusive 650S Le Mans.

Created by MSO to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the now legendary victory at the famous French endurance race, the 650S Le Mans is limited to just 50 examples and features design aspects taken from McLaren F1 GTR chassis #01R which took victory two decades ago.

Completing the line up of McLaren models on display during the weekend will be a 1996 McLaren F1 GTR.

Being displayed by McLaren Automotive, on loan from BMW North America who sponsored the car during its debut season, chassis #17R was campaigned by Team Bigazzi and competed at various races through the season including finishing eighth at the 24 Hours of Le Mans.

The Volcano Red example of the limited edition McLaren P1TM is one of just 375 models, and represents the McLaren Ultimate Series at the pinnacle of the three-tier model range.

The 1998 McLaren F1, chassis #073, is in a highly sought-after specification with a number 'LM' upgrades.

NEW CITROËN C4 CACTUS

FROM ONLY £165 - £219 PER MONTH ON PERSONAL LEASE*

According to the critics, different is great, because they voted the New Citroën C4 Cactus hatchback of the year. It's full of clever ideas like the protective side airbumps and instead of the usual cluttered dash, there's a simple 7" touchscreen with built-in reversing camera.¹ We think it looks pretty cool too, but that's just what happens when you do things out of the ordinary.

Brave United bow out to Owls in cup defeat

A BATTLING Oxford United could not withstand the pressure of a powerful Sheffield Wednesday side as they fell to a 1-0 defeat at Hillsborough on Tuesday in the Capital One Cup.

United could not repeat the heroics of their 4-0 win at Brentford in the previous round and Atdhe Nuhiu's goal for the Championship side proved to be the difference.

Johnny Mullins took the captain's armband for the game and saw his defence tested early on after Wednesday captain Tom Lee planted a dangerous header toward Sam Slocombe's goal after five minutes which the Oxford 'keeper managed to kick away.

Ryan Taylor tried his luck with an effort after eight minutes but United were penned back by Wednesday for the majority of the first half with the home side putting the U's under significant pressure.

Sam Long then had to be stretchered off the pitch after catching his boot in the turf when making a challenge and Liam Sercombe came on, just a few minutes before half time.

The game's feistiness only increased in the second half and suddenly the U's were behind on 55 minutes after Nuhiu headed home from close range in a goal-mouth scramble.

Callum O'Dowda sought to find a way into the game for United and nearly found an equaliser when he cut in from the right and curled a shot that just slipped by the far post.

Slocombe had to react brilliantly to fend off an effort from Marco Matias as the Owls looked to hit the U's hard on the break.

Danny Hylton came on for Patrick Hoban with 13 minutes to go and the substitute nearly found a goal after a ball was flicked into his path but he couldn't deflect the ball out of Owls 'keeper Lewis Price' hands.

In the end, the Yellows admitted defeat against the superior side in what was an encouraging display on the night.

Oxfordshire set up final after winning division

OXFORDSHIRE CCC beat Wiltshire CCC by an innings and 183 runs last week over three days to claim the Unicorn Minor Counties Western Division title.

The resounding win over their local rivals sealed the division title for Oxon, which set up a national minor counties final clash with Cumberland CCC who won the Eastern Division.

Oxon beat their rivals over the course of three days from August 16 at Devizes Cricket Club and are due to face Cumberland in a four-day match starting September 6 at Carlisle Cricket Club.

Oxfordshire finished their league campaign on 122 points, taking five wins from a possible six and finishing 13 points clear of their closest challengers, Berkshire CCC.

Oxon knew that only a win would guarantee them the division title but the game tilted Oxon's way after Wiltshire's decision to elect to bat led to the Oxon cricketers dispatching them quickly.

Oxon's Harvey Eltham took 4-13 in just five overs and Chad Keegan scored 8-53 including a first innings five-for.

When it came to Oxon's batting, Hugo Darby stepped up to the plate and knocked 112 runs from 198 balls and Lloyd Sabin knocked an admirable 72 runs from 81 balls.

Plato holds series lead at Knockhill

JASON PLATO endured a turbulent weekend at Knockhill circuit last weekend after he had his advantage as leader of the British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) cut to just eleven points.

The Team BMR driver only qualified twelfth for the weekend's first race, so he added extra ballast in order to aid his qualifying for the second, finishing 23rd overall in the first race.

The seventh meeting of the BTCC this year saw Plato attempt to recover his weekend in the second and third races as he managed to finish the races in seventh and fourth respectively, maintaining his position as series leader.

Plato said after the race: "From where we were in qualifying it was a really good weekend.

"We've really rescued it – I've only lost five points. We're going to three circuits now where there are longer corners – the problem with Knockhill is it just doesn't suit our car.

"It's just the way it is, but this is the only circuit on the calendar with these characteristics, so I'm pleased with the weekend."

Four defeats in a row for United ABINGDON United fell to their fourth consecutive defeat in four league games after Longlevens AFC knocked three past Steve Alman's side on Tuesday at Saw Mills.

A brace from Brad Martin and an effort from Shaun O'Connor gave the home side the win that leaves United bottom of the Hellenic Premier League table.

United have been edging closer to their first points of the season over the last couple of games and were cruelly undone against Tuffley Rovers on Saturday despite Jack Ross' goal in a 2-1 defeat at the Northcourt.

Ross had found space in the seventh minute to control a free kick and head past Rovers' Aaron Taylor into the Rovers' goal.

Rovers scored their equaliser through captain Ashley Davies in the second half who latched onto a header from Gareth Davies, and fired home from close range.

The visitors then sealed the win two minutes after through Anthony Herrin, who met a cross to head home at the far post.

United announced on Saturday that they'd added two new faces to this season's squad with ex-Abingdon Town defender Francesco Merola and ex-Thame United keeper, Tom Plumridge joining the club.

Toussaint's U's delight

DESTINEY Toussaint was 'over the moon' to open her account for Oxford United Women in their inspiring 3-2 victory over Watford Ladies in the FA Women's Super League 2 on Sunday at Berkhamsted.

Toussaint scored the winner in a frantic encounter that saw United come back from being two goals down to score two goals within the dying minutes.

Sahara Osborne-Ricketts had headed the U's into a half-time lead before Kim Farrow and Ellie Mason gave Watford the lead with just fifteen minutes left on the clock.

Toussaint said: "For me it was a feeling of relief. It was a ball over the top and everyone threw themselves at it. We knew there were only a few minutes to go and when the referee gave it we were delighted and over the moon."

The new signing believed that the team always knew they could get back into the game and that they 'stuck together' in order to get the result.

She said: "The two goals were disappointing but we stuck together and worked as a team."

United take on Bristol Academy Women tonight.

Fighters conquer the cage in Oxford

• Calum McDonagh (left) took the decision win over Danny Nash

OXFORDSHIRE'S fighting talent was locked in a cage for a night of multi-discipline fighting on Saturday night at the Oxford Sports and Social Club in Roman Way.

Eight fights of mixed martial arts (MMA) and boxing were on offer to the masses gathered in the club in the night dubbed

By Alexander Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Oxford Caged Warriors.

The main event of the night's entertainment was a title fight between Hugo Fins from the Oxford Martial Arts Academy and Dave Davey in four three minute rounds of boxing action.

Four rounds proved more than enough time however as Fins came in strong from the bell dominating the fight early.

The win came swiftly with Davey giving in by verbal submission 58 seconds into the first round after a barrage from Fins, who looked confident.

Fins took the Caged Warriors Welterweight belt following the win.

He said: "I was a bit surprised but I've been training hard."

"Usually I'm not a boxer I'm a K-1 fighter. I was about to knee him then I remembered it was boxing."

The mixture of disciplines catered to all tastes with some great fights coming from the MMA fighters.

Callum McDonagh went up against Danny Nash in three rounds of three minutes semi-professional mixed martial arts.

McDonagh dominated the fight from the early stages, controlling Nash with superior wrestling technique.

The battle continued in familiar style for the duration with Nash struggling to recover control as McDonagh kept him pinned to the floor.

After landing some heavy throws McDonagh took an easy decision win at the end of the third.

Mar Cel then beat Tom Enstone in a second semi-pro three rounder in brisk fashion.

Five out of five for superb Millers

NORTH Leigh maintained their one hundred per cent win record with a snatched-and-grab win over title rivals Taunton Town to stay top of the Southern League Division One South & West table.

Both teams were on maximum points and in a close encounter Morgan Williams's goal just after the hour mark proved to be the difference between the two sides.

The Millers were in fine form from the off with Kieran Sanders and Williams linking well as Leigh sought to find the opener.

Taunton got further into the game as it progressed and Town striker Aidan Chainey tested Leigh 'keeper James Foster with a powerful effort on 21 minutes.

Taunton's Ben Carter had a pop from 25 yards with a stunning effort that smashed against the Leigh bar just after half-time.

The effort proved to be the wake-up call Leigh needed and

The Millers found their goal on 63 minutes after Elliot Osborne-Ricketts threaded Williams the ball ten yards from goal and his shot flew into the far corner.

Foster then had to think fast for The Millers as a deflection off the boot of Leigh centre back, Lewis White but Foster was able to catch and smother the ball to remove the danger.

North Leigh held on to the win to move three points clear of their rivals and will now visit Cove FC in the Emirates FA Cup on Monday.

Sport Bites

Wantage victorious

FOOTBALL: Wantage Town bagged themselves another three points in the Southern League Division One South & West on Saturday with a 3-1 win over Shortwood United at Alfredian Park.

The Freds found their breakthrough on 35 minutes after an attack led to Ben Whitehead breaking clear and he struck an effort into the corner from 25 yards out.

Shortwood found their equaliser in 45 minutes after a swinging cross from the right was met by Liam Meredith from close range.

The resulting kick-off saw the Freds regain the lead after Whitehead's corner was knocked in at the far post by Stuart Cattell to head home his second of the season.

The Freds then rounded out the scoring with Sam Collier squaring the ball to Whitehead, who lashed home his second of the day from seven yards.

Wantage are set to face off against Dideot Town in a preliminary round of the FA Cup tomorrow at Alfredian Park.

O'Dowda gets Int'l call-up

FOOTBALL: Oxford United's promising winger Callum O'Dowda has been called up to the Republic of Ireland U-21 squad for next month's games.

The Kidlington 20-year-old will be in the squad for the friendly against Qatar on September 4 and their 2017 UEFA U21 Championships qualifier at Andorra on September 8.

The winger will miss United's league game against Bristol Rovers on September 6 as a result of the call-up.

Oxford City beaten despite wonder Coulson strike

OXFORD City fell to a 2-1 threat for Oxford as he looked defeat at Havant & Waterlooville on Saturday despite Luke Coulson hammering home a superb long-distance shot.

The Hawks nearly went in front early on after Ben Swallow tested City's Craig Hill with a fine effort.

Matt Paterson was also looking lively for the home side and when put through on goal, the forward was unlucky to lose a sprint to the ball with Hill who grabbed hold of the chance.

City's Bradley Bubb was denied a goal after it was ruled out for being offside before The Hawks broke the deadlock through Adrian Clifton tucking home from Swallow's cross before half-time.

Havant came out of the blocks firing in the second half and were looking dangerous as they threatened Hill's goal.

Bubb was looking a constant to close him down and the shot sailed into the net.

Havant then regained the lead after Nic Ciardini's ball was lofted into the area from a corner and Dan Strugnell headed home to seal the win.

SAINTS FALL IN PLAY-OFF DREAM

IT was the end of Oxford Saints' dream for the season on Sunday after they fell to a crushing 50-13 defeat to Sussex Thunder at Brighton Rugby Ground in the Division II South West Conference play-offs.

The Saints were dealt a blow ahead of the game with star quarterback, Ben Denton unavailable and 2nd string David McCormack sidelined early on with a possible concussion.

Running back James Walter and tight end Grant Tebb were utilised in the position to compensate but the Thunder proved to be too tough to handle and their experience in the game proved to be the difference between the two sides.

Sussex took a commanding 14-0 lead into the first quarter and extended their lead to 24-7 by half time with the Saints just holding on as Tebb scored a touchdown.

The third quarter saw Ryan Kingshot add another six points for Oxford but the Thunder added a touchdown and a successful PAT to make it 31-13.

Thunder's Dom Gould and Bright Kubi finished the game off in the fourth quarter with respective touchdowns to take the final score to 50-13.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

In a Facebook statement, the club said to the fans: "Congratulations to the Sussex Thunder for their well-deserved win today. Well done to all the Saints for putting together a great season and reaching the playoffs in a competitive conference.

"Thank you to all our fans and the families for supporting us throughout the year."

The Saints' veteran Ali Galbraith called time on his career after the game, completing his ten year association with the club, which started in Oxford's former youth team.

Galbraith acted as wide receiver and free safety for the Saints over the course of his time, as well as acting as the club's strength and conditioning coach.

A statement from the club on Galbraith's departure read: "Ali has been the cornerstone of the team. Even if he no longer suits up in the white and blue of the Saints, we expect football will remain a large part of his life and look forward to seeing him soon.

"Well done Ali and congratulations on all your achievements."
